Blog Post: A Review of WeRateDogs

This blog post aims to address some of the burning questions of the worlds dog lovers. This is exactly what you need whilst in these tough working from home conditions… Just like Fred below:

After reviewing the data from Twitter WeRateDogs we are finally able to provide some insights into:
- Most common breed of dog
- Dogs with the highest ratings
  - Favorited on Twitter
  - Rated by WeRateDogs
- The most liked Dog on WeRateDogs
- We are did also find out who the least popular breed was but we think it is too cruel to share this. We still really like all breeds, so no need for the long face like Big Poppa below)
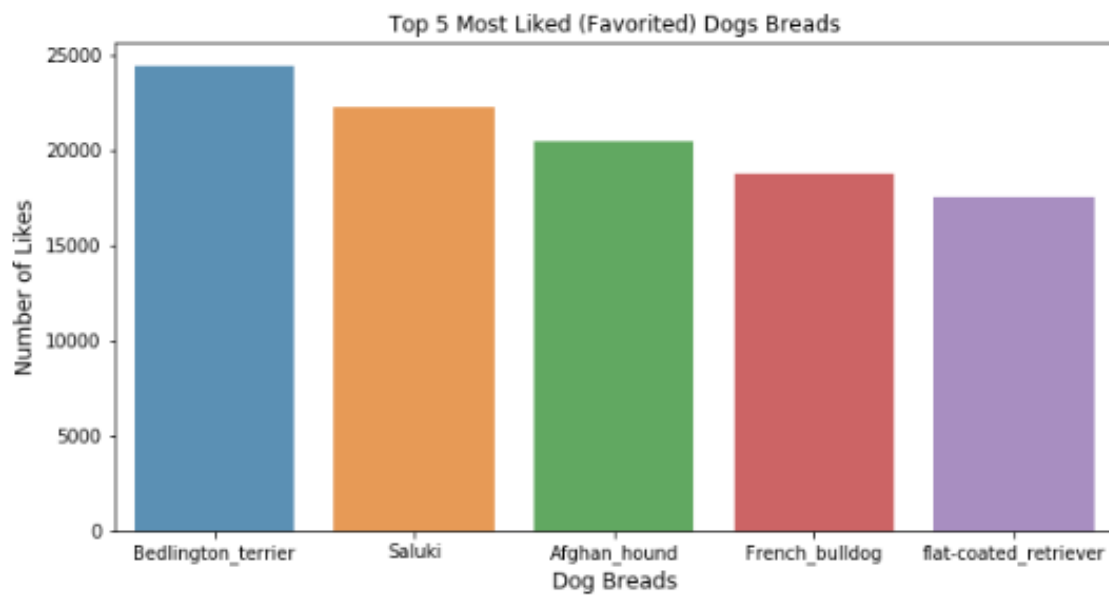

On to the juicy part!

Drum roll please…….

The most common dog on WeRateDogs is the Labrador Retriever. This is really isn't surprising. They are certainly a lovely breed of dog. Don't just take my word for it… Look at Zeke

The breed of dog with the most likes is the Bedlington Terrier… I can't really disagree after that the tweet below. Certainly deserves more than 12/10!

Our top 5 most liked Dog Breeds are outlined in the below bar chart: The Bedlington Terries is leading the charge, but the Saluki, Afghan Hound and French Bulldog are in close pursuit.

Finally, our most liked Doggo on WeRateDogs is with a woofing 156 thousands likes. That is very impressive and probably worth it considering he is standing in a swimming pool. Very cool indeed.
